the existing Constitution has failed to deliver the goods to the people and has already become outdated, and, because of the system, it requires a lot of changes.

SHRI ARUN JAITLEY: There is no such proposal before the Government of India.

MR. CHAIRMAN: Question Hour is over.

WRITTEN ANSWERS TO STARRED QUESTIONS

Showing of Channels as per Consumers' Interest

*203. SHRI KARTAR SINGH DUGGAL: Will the Minister of INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING be pleased to state:

(a) the steps contemplated to obviate cable operators to shovel all the channels available to the viewers and make them pay for it; and

(b) how soon Government are going to ensure that the viewer receives only those channels which he wants and pays for them alone?

THE MINISTER OF INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING (SHRIMATI SUSHMA SWARAJ): (a) and (b) Government is examining the feasibility of mandating Conditional Access System (CAS) for Pay Channel viewing through Cable, which would, inter alia, enable the consumer to pay for only those Pay Channels, from among such Pay Channels offered by the Cable Operator, that the consumer subscribes for. The Task Force consisting of the stake holders including representatives of the Ministry of Information & Broadcasting, Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Cable Operators, Multi Service Operators (MSOs) and Broadcasters has been constituted to examine all the aspects related to the subject and make recommendations. The Task Force is finalising its Report. No time frame can be indicated at present.
